

CONDITIONS OF THE PUBLICATION

1. The paper should be written on the current issues, contain the results of deep research and explanation of received scientific conclusions.

2. The paper must be written in Polish, English, Ukrainian or Russian; the author should thoroughly proof the paper, it should correspond to the thematic orientation of the Collection and include all structural elements (in specified order), namely:

2.1) Metadata (information about author (s) of the article and its abstract part) that is placed sequentially in article mother language and English and include (if the article mother language is English, then metadata should be only in English):

-- Information about author (full name, academic title and academic degree, place of work or study, position, City, State, E-mail);

-- Title of the article;

-- Abstract – for narrative reviews, abstracts should be unstructured (i.e. no headings). For all types of manuscripts, the abstract length can be increased from the 1800-characters limit if the topic dictates, and to allow full compliance with the relevant reporting guidelines. Abstract in article mother language (min 1800 characters), where is clearly formulated the main idea of the article and proved its actuality. It is important! Abstract in English should be informative and original, it should reflect the main content of the article and research results (summary of the article and its reviewing), the abstract in English should be min 1800 characters. A concise and factual abstract is required. The abstract should state briefly the purpose of the research, the principal results and major conclusions. An abstract is often presented separately from the article, so it must be able to stand alone. For this reason, References should be avoided, but if essential, then cite the author(s) and year(s). Also, non-standard or uncommon abbreviations should be avoided, but if essential they must be defined at their first mention in the abstract itself.;

-- keywords (5-8 words). Immediately after the abstract, provide a maximum of 8 keywords, using American spelling and avoiding general and plural terms and multiple concepts (avoid, for example, 'and', 'of'). Be sparing with abbreviations: only abbreviations firmly established in the field may be eligible. These keywords will be used for indexing purposes.;

-- number of formulas, tables, figures and literature should be as follows: Formulas: 2; fig.: 3; tabl.: 1; bibl.: 12);

-- JEL Classification. The available codes may be accessed at JEL.

2.2) The text of the article should contain interrelated parts, which start with specified title in bold Introduction. Statement of problem in general view and its connection with the actual researches and publications and also with important scientific and practical problems, with the obligatory references in the text to the used literature. The author should separate from the general problem the part, which is explored by him, and show its actuality;

Literature review and the problem statement. Statement of purpose and methods of theme research that is considered;

Research results. Description of main material with explanation of scientific results;

Conclusions. Scientific novelty, theoretical and practical importance of research, socio-economic effects arising from the implementation of scientific results. Prospects for further research in this area;

References.

Authors should ensure that material cited in their article was published in peer-reviewed scholarly publications; citation of non-peer-reviewed material (such as conference posters/abstracts, unpublished data on file, and preprints) should be clearly identified and kept to a minimum, and data from "predatory" journals should not be used to support statements made in the article.

"Predatory" journals are usually open access publications that publish articles with little or no peer review, and do not apply the editorial standards and publishing ethics of scholarly journals. "Predatory" journals often have very similar names to those of well-established journals. Please note that several abstracting and indexing services, including Clarivate Analytics, are taking ethical publication seriously by examining the content, practices and websites of these "predatory" journals. If you would like to learn more about learned (open access) publishers and publications, please visit the websites of the OASPA (Open Access Scholarly Publishers Association), DOAJ (Directory of Open Access Journals) or COPE (Committee on Publication Ethics).

The References should be placed at the end of the article. For all source material must be corresponding references. In the text the links to original source should be taken in square brackets with indication of Author(s) Surname(s) and the year of publication (example, «...[Anosov 2014] ...», «...[Kovalenko, Podolai 2005] ...», «...[The World Bank 2009] ...», «...[Gray 1998]...», «...[Gray, Dooley 1999]...» etc.). Original sources are specified in original language. References to the unpublished works are not permitted.

Use of DOI is highly encouraged.

If the article mother language isn't English, then the reference list is added with translation in English (References) due to the international standard bibliographic APA-2010. Names periodic editions (magazines, collections and other) are served transliteration, and in brackets in English. Number of references should have at least 10 references, from which at least one half should be references to foreign sources (if the article mother language is Ukrainian or Russian). Source name in the references are placed in the alphabetically order. To make references to textbooks, teaching aids are not rational.

3. The volume of the article is 8-16 pages of A4; page margins – 2,5 cm, and:

-- for Metadata (Author's information): font «Verdana»; 11 point (font size); single spacing; text alignment – by left;

-- for Paper Name: in 1 line after Metadata; font «Verdana»; 13 point (font size); single spacing; IN CAPITAL; bold; text alignment – by center;

-- for Metadata (Abstract, Keywords etc): font «Verdana»; 11 point (font size); single spacing; text alignment – by width;

-- for Main Text: in 1 line after Paper Name; font «Verdana»; 12 point (font size); single spacing; paragraph indent – 1,25 cm; text alignment – by width.

4. The text of the article should be clear, concise, number of tables, formulas and illustrations (schemes, figures, graphs, diagrams) - minimum and they should apply only if it significantly improves the content of the article, and in case of better and deeper understanding of the article meaning.

5. The graphics (schemes, figures, graphs, diagrams) within the text should be alignment by width with the caption at the bottom «Figure № – Name of graphic» (for the caption – alignment by left) with the obligatory link on it within the article text. The graphics should be in high resolution.

6. The tables should be compact, logically built, and have ordinal number and a short expressive title that covers the topic and content of the table. The table text design: font «Verdana»; 11 point; single spacing. The table within the text should be alignment by width with the caption at the top «Table № – Name of table» (for the caption – alignment by left) with the obligatory link on it within the article text.

7. Math formulae.

Please submit math equations as editable text and not as images. Present simple formulae in line with normal text where possible and use the solidus (/) instead of a horizontal line for small fractional terms, e.g., X/Y. In principle, variables are to be presented in italics. Powers of e are often more conveniently denoted by exp. Number consecutively any equations that have to be displayed separately from the text (if referred to explicitly in the text). Each formula on which there is the link within the article text (example, «... using equation (3) it is possible...»), should be numbered. At this the alignment of the formula by width and numbering alignment by right side.

8. Citing, tables, illustrations, all data are submitted with reference to the source. Under each table and figure should be indicated the source (Source:). For notations should be used the font: Verdana, 9 point.

9. It is possible to format the text using the lists. Lists can be bulleted, numbering and multilevel. For numbering lists should be used Arabic numbers «1.», «1.1.», «2)», «2.1)» etc. For the bulleted lists be used symbols «-», «-» or «•».

Use of inclusive language

Inclusive language acknowledges diversity, conveys respect to all people, is sensitive to differences, and promotes equal opportunities. Articles should make no assumptions about the beliefs or commitments of any reader, should contain nothing which might imply that one individual is superior to another on the grounds of race, sex, culture or any other characteristic, and should use inclusive language throughout. Authors should ensure that writing is free from bias, for instance by using 'he or she', 'his/her' instead of 'he' or 'his', and by making use of job titles that are free of stereotyping (e.g. 'chairperson' instead of 'chairman' and 'flight attendant' instead of 'stewardess').

3. The materials should be send

- by using the Collection site, which is functions universal publishing platform OJS (Open Journal System). For this it is necessary to register on site (<https://european-cooperation.eu>) as author and attach the materials;
- by E-mail editor@european-cooperation.eu. As a mail subject set – Publication in Collection.

4. The papers that are sent to the Editorial without the satisfaction of the current conditions of the publication will not be considered.

5. Each paper is getting the independent review: Double blind review (reviewers doesn't known information about authors, and the authors doesn't known information about the reviewers). In the case of paper decline the Editorial will give the motivated rejection to the author. The terms of review – up to 14 days.

6. After obtaining the POSITIVE review on scientific materials the author will get the message by e-mail from the Editorial board about PUBLICATION ACCEPTANCE. And then the materials should be paid (see p. 7). Author need to send the copy of receipt at editor@european-cooperation.eu.

7. Submission Fee

Article Submission Charges does not apply.

Since no fees are charged for access, the editorial team of the journal offsets the publication expenses – including those of peer review management, journal production and online hosting and archiving – by charging Article Processing Charges, also known as publication fees, to authors, institutions or funders for each article published.

The submitting author is responsible for payment of the Article Processing Charges and must confirm, at the time of submission, that s/he will organize payment of the Article Processing Charges, should the article be accepted for publication.
